- The product will not be considered as deficient in terms of materials or construction labor in case it needs to be adjusted, amended or regulated in order to comply with the national or local safety descriptions that are valid in any country other than the one for which it was destined and constructed.

This guarantee does not influence the consumer's rights, foreseen by the applied national and european law being now in force, neither the consumers' rights towards the retailers, deriving from the purchase agreement.

ATTENTION!

With the restoration of the damage the time of the guarantee is not extended.

NORMAL OPERATION OF THE DEVICE

When turning on the switch, the red indicator-lamp in the front is on and the ventilator begins. The device is self-checked in terms of the program for 10-15 seconds. And, then, the clearing function begins by internally turning on the lamp of the infrared.

In a normal temperature of 25 °C and after a time of approximately 60 minutes the device stops operating automatically. Depending on the temperature of the surrounding room it is placed in, the minimum time of operation is 47 minutes and the maximum one is 81 minutes. The device has been planned to operate in the right way in temperatures of 10 °C to 35 °C.

MAINTAINANCE - SERVICE OF THE DEVICE

It is necessary to clean and check the good function of the device at least once a year.

In order to benefit from the guarantee cover one must show the guarantee to the company's technician, the receipt or the invoice of the purchase (or a photocopy of them).

In case you need to deliver the device in order to be serviced do not forget to fill in the special damage form-leaflet and hand in the drawer as well.

If you are going to send your device by post or courier please put it in its initial package with the protective materials (air-cells, felizols) or in another similar, appropriate one in order to avoid wear during transportation and in order to send it without any extra package cost. In a different case you will be charged with extra expenses for the new package.
